

TOBACCO

Although tobacco is not an illicit drug, nicotine has addictive properties and is responsible for a variety of health-related problems. It is Southwestern Adventist University's policy to remain a safe and healthful environment. Possession, use or distribution of tobacco products by students is strictly prohibited. Violation is grounds for disciplinary action up to and including fines and dismissal.